Who is Skyline Living

Skyline Living began when brothers Jason and Martin Castellan started their rental business while still at the University of Guelph. Along with their good friend Roy Jason Ashdown, and COO Wayne Byrd, they grew the business into a leader in the Canadian rental apartment industry and still actively run Skyline today.

Speaking of Skyline Living

Our name

We're proud of our company and want to be sure it's always represented correctly, so please ensure that you only ever refer to us as Skyline Living. Not Skyline. "Skyline" is often used to speak of our parent company – Skyline Group of Companies Ltd., and we need to avoid confusing the two entities.
